HAN ENROLMENT REGULATIONS 2022-2023 FOR THE MASTER MOLECULAR LIFE SCIENCES

Regulations for application, enrolment, re-enrolment and termination of enrolment for the 2022-2023 academic year

INTRODUCTION

These regulations contain the rules about application, enrolment, re-enrolment and termination of enrolment for the degree course Master Molecular Life Sciences at HAN University of Applied Sciences for the 2022-2023 academic year.

Application and enrolment. Application is not the same as enrolment. An applicant who wants to do a degree course first needs to apply. Then the process follows of verifying whether the applicant is admissible – does the applicant meet the education requirements, are all papers in order. Finally, tuition fees must be paid. Only when all this has been arranged can the applicant actually be enrolled as a student.

Contract education. These regulations do not apply to enrolment in post-bachelor programmes, courses or education that is otherwise not government-funded.

1. APPLICATION AND ENROLMENT: GENERAL PROVISIONS

Applications are submitted via Studielink (www.studielink.nl). Applicants with a Dutch address and citizen service number log in with DigiD; applicants from abroad create a Studielink account with their own e-mail address. After applying, the applicant receives information from HAN about the next steps. Enrolment takes effect on 1 September 2022. An applicant who meets all enrolment requirements in time is guaranteed to be enrolled at the start of the academic year and can use the HAN facilities from that date. An application can be withdrawn via Studielink.

6. ADMISSION TO THE MASTER'S DEGREE COURSE

Enrolment in the master's degree course is possible when the applicant meets the enrolment conditions and the qualitative admission requirements:

- a completed bachelor's degree in the field of life sciences or an equivalent degree, such as a Bachelor of Applied Science (HLO), or a bachelor in biochemistry or biotechnology;
- at least five months of practical research experience;
- a workplace where the practical assignments of the programme can be carried out (an internship or the applicant's current job);
- a command of English at level B2 of the Common European Framework of Reference.

Applicants from abroad or with another diploma can demonstrate their level through an admission assessment. International applicants also meet the requirements for a residence permit where applicable.

7. TUITION FEES

Students pay the statutory or the institutional tuition fee for each academic year in which they are enrolled. The amounts are published on www.han.nl/collegegeld before the start of the academic year. Students enrolled during the year pay one twelfth of the annual fee for each remaining month.

8. RE-ENROLMENT AND TERMINATION OF ENROLMENT

Students who continue their studies re-enrol via Studielink. Enrolment can be terminated via Studielink; it ends as of the first day of the month following the month in which the request was received.

9. COMPLAINTS AND OBJECTIONS

An applicant who disagrees with a decision taken under these regulations can lodge a written objection with the Disputes Advisory Committee via the HAN Complaints and Disputes Office, within six weeks of the date of the decision.
